Last chance to paint

In art this week the students from year 1-9 created mixed media pieces inspired by the work of artist John Dyer. After watching the live lesson 'Last chance to paint' last week we discussed the subject matter, techniques and materials he uses before moving on to produce their own individual works of art, see examples below.

If you would like to see more of the student's work it can be viewed on our Summer term 2023 board at www.pinterest.co.uk/BH_art

News & Information

Swimming

There will not be any swimming lessons next week. However, can the older swimming group - if they forgot this week - please remember that they will need to bring pyjamas in for the last week of terms swimming lesson so that they can complete their life saving certificate.

Bat Walk

An evening bat detection walk has been booked for October with the Leicestershire Wildlife Bat Protection Group. The venue and evening have yet to be confirmed but this looks like being an exciting event. This will include an informative talk about bats and the society bring bat detectors with them so that students can operate them and listen to the bats as they fly overhead.

Cosby Yarn Bomb

Many thanks to all those students, parents, grandparents and friends who have been busy knitting, crocheting and making pom poms to add to our entry in the yarn bomb this year. The festival will take place in the village between 11th - 30th August and the theme is 'Showtime'.

Food Technology

In food technology this week Sparrow Hawks and Eagles made some delicious sprinkle cookies. This week they used the creaming method to achieve these. Star Baker was Vincent Parker.

In Buzzards we looked at healthy eating and the students made some fruity kebabs. The fruit was cut and split up amongst the students. Star Baker was Lily swift.

I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles

At the allotment this week children planted Pumpkin plants, Corn and Courgettes but then had some fun time as a reward and blew bubbles to chase, catch and pop!

Follow that Route

Reception children learnt about maps this week; they looked at a book that had maps in it explaining that a map is like a 'bird's eye view' of the landscape. They learnt that we use maps to find out where things are and make journeys. To make a map you need to imagine what things look like from above, as if you were a bird flying over the landscape. They also learnt that a landmark is a feature that you can see clearly, such as a church with a steeple. Landmarks help you find your way around a village. Landmarks are shown on most maps as signs, or symbols. Map symbols can be letters or simple drawings.

They then had great fun drawing maps of the route to the allotments – when they had completed them, they then followed the route using their maps to test them out. They were very excited when the route worked!!
